

Fateh Singh and the Shortcut

14 × 12 · 6 across · 6 down · easy · Ages 8-12

ACROSS

- 1 The sweet, spiral-shaped treat whose smell drifts from the shop on The Broadway.
- 4 Guru ___ Dev Ji, who taught that honest work is worth more than dishonest wealth.
- 5 One of the twenty-eight thin metal rods Dad patiently straightened on the bike wheel.
- 7 The bent-wheeled machine Dad spent a whole weekend fixing by hand instead of replacing.
- 10 The quick, easy path the team first took by copying a design instead of doing the work themselves.
- 12 The wind-catching machine Fateh's team had to design and build for STEM Week.

DOWN

- 2 Malik ___, the wealthy man whose food Guru Nanak Dev Ji refused because his riches were dishonest.
- 3 Fateh's grandmother, who tells him the sakhi of Bhai Lalo and Malik Bhago.
- 6 The Sikh value of earning an honest living through your own hard work – '___ Karni'.
- 8 Bhai ___, the poor carpenter whose honest meal Guru Nanak Dev Ji chose over a rich man's feast.
- 9 The simple bread that dripped milk from one man's hands and blood from another's in the sakhi.
- 11 The kind of work this whole story is about – the opposite of cheating or copying.

Fateh Singh and the Shortcut

14 × 12 · 6 across · 6 down · easy · Ages 8-12

ACROSS

- 1 JALEBI – The sweet, spiral-shaped treat whose smell drifts from the shop on The Broadway.
- 4 NANAK – Guru ___ Dev Ji, who taught that honest work is worth more than dishonest wealth.
- 5 SPOKE – One of the twenty-eight thin metal rods Dad patiently straightened on the bike wheel.
- 7 BICYCLE – The bent-wheeled machine Dad spent a whole weekend fixing by hand instead of replacing.
- 10 SHORTCUT – The quick, easy path the team first took by copying a design instead of doing the work themselves.
- 12 TURBINE – The wind-catching machine Fateh's team had to design and build for STEM Week.

DOWN

- 2 BHAGO – Malik ___, the wealthy man whose food Guru Nanak Dev Ji refused because his riches were dishonest.
- 3 DADI – Fateh's grandmother, who tells him the sakhi of Bhai Lalo and Malik Bhago.
- 6 KIRAT – The Sikh value of earning an honest living through your own hard work – '___ Karni'.
- 8 LALO – Bhai ___, the poor carpenter whose honest meal Guru Nanak Dev Ji chose over a rich man's feast.
- 9 ROTI – The simple bread that dripped milk from one man's hands and blood from another's in the sakhi.
- 11 HONEST – The kind of work this whole story is about – the opposite of cheating or copying.